Northview Times Two

Stallion operation covers all the bases in Maryland, Pennsylvania

BY EVAN HAMMONDS

Northview Stallion Station first opened its doors in 1989 with plenty of history behind it and seemingly blue skies ahead. The stallion operation has faced plenty of adversity in its first two decades with the erosion of the Thoroughbred industry in Maryland, but with its original facility and a new post in the growth state of Pennsylvania that opened in 2009, Northview now boasts the deepest stallion roster in the Midlantic region.

*A-E and COMPARABLE INDEX: The lifetime Average-Earnings Index indicates how much purse money the progeny of one sire has earned, on the average, in relation to the average earnings of all runners in the same years; average earnings of all runners in any year is represented by an index of 1.00. The Comparable Index indicates the average earnings of progeny produced from mares bred to one sire, when these same mares were bred to other sires. Only 32% of all sires have a lifetime AEI higher than their mares Comparable Index.

The stallion barn at the Maryland division was home to Northern Dancer

Started by Richard Golden, Dr. and Mrs. Tom Bowman, and Allaire DuPont, Northview took its name from its location as a 116-acre parcel at the northern end of the famed Windfields Farm near Chesapeake City. Windfields had been the home of many top stallions in its day including the legendary Northern Dancer, who at one time commanded a stud fee of $1 million prior to his death in 1990. Northern Dancer, the most influential stallion of the latter part of the 20th century, sired 147 stakes winners from 635 foals (23%), and his pedigree can be found in nearly every stakes winner today.

Northview's initial roster included local standouts such as Smarten, Waquoit, and Two Punch and has since grown to include Maryland's perennial leading sire Not For Love (out of a Northern Dancer mare) and six other stallions.

Station Maryland division is vital to the breeding community," said Cricket Goodall, executive director of the Maryland Horse Breeders Association. "Mr. Golden has worked hard to evaluate the needs of the region and continues to show that the right stallions at the right price will attract mares."

Maryland now has purses funded from video lottery terminals in the state but has been late to the party in the Midlantic region with stiff competition from the surrounding states of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Delaware.

In fiscal 2010-11, Pennsylvania's 10 casinos generated $274.9 million for the state's Race Horse Development Fund, hence Northview's foray into the Keystone State.

The new Pennsylvania division has received an influx of talented stallions in the form of Jump Start, E Dubai, and Smarty Jones from Ghost Ridge Farm, and will offer four other top-flight stallions for the 2012 breeding season.

Time to Move

According to The Jockey Club, 198 stallions covered 2,782 mares in Maryland in 1991. By 2005 the number of stallions had dropped to 78 and 1,728 mares were covered. In 2010 the number of stallions in the Free State had dwindled to 34 and the mares covered slid to 575.

"It became very evident to Northview quite a few years ago that Maryland racing was dragging its feet regarding the competition that was surrounding them," Golden said of the decision to develop a farm near Peach Bottom, Pa. "We really had no choice regarding our move. It was either make the move or leave our future in the hands of the chaos that was going on, and is still going on in Maryland."

The two farms are approximately 45 minutes apart.

"The property that Northview chose in Pennsylvania is just what we wanted," Golden said of the land purchased in 2007. "I love property with nothing on it but fertile land. This gives you an opportunity to build your farm exactly the way you want it to look, and that's exactly what we did."

The investment in the new farm as well as updates on the original property in Maryland has been extensive. At the Pennsylvania division there are now three 20-stall broodmare barns and a 12-stall barn for boarders. The eight-stall stallion barn was designed by Maryland division farm manager Louis Merryman.

The farm in Pennsylvania handles 125-150 mares in the breeding season and has anywhere from 40-60 year-round boarders.

*A-E and COMPARABLE INDEX: The lifetime Average-Earnings Index indicates how much purse money the progeny of one sire has earned, on the average, in relation to the average earnings of all runners in the same years; average earnings of all runners in any year is represented by an index of 1.00. The Comparable Index indicates the average earnings of progeny produced from mares bred to one sire, when these same mares were bred to other sires. Only 32% of all sires have a lifetime AEI higher than their mares Comparable Index.

At the Maryland farm, miles of fencing have been replaced. The breeding shed has been resurfaced and brought up to date.

In August, Northview brought in Carl McEntee as director of bloodstock services. He joined Northview after serving as general manager of Ghost Ridge, where he was instrumental in putting together a star-packed roster.

McEntee, born and raised in Ireland, is a graduate of the British National Stud program and has been in the United States since 2003 after working for Darley. He was farm manager at David Hager's Idle Hour Farm and at Paragon Farm in Kentucky before heading to Ghost Ridge.

The move from Ghost Ridge came about when that farm's owner, Terry Bratton, decided to take his operation in another direction and concentrate on his broodmare band. The stallions and McEntee hit the road with Northview purchasing a majority interest in Jump Start and well as buying the stallion Silver Train from HnR Racing.

"Northview is the model for what the Pennsylvania legislature had in mind when slots were introduced to reinvigorate Thoroughbred racing," said Jeb Hannum, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association. "Northview has purchased open space, invested in buildings and materials, employed local residents, and, most importantly, improved racing in Pennsylvania."

Up Ahead

The future in the Keystone State certainly appears robust, and Northview is in a strong position for today and the future.

"Five years from today, as the right stallions emerge in Pennsylvania, I think the stallion bonus numbers will speak for themselves,” Golden said. “Also, the breeders who are taking advantage of the PHBA’s programs will be in a much better financial position than they have been. All of this will lead to a healthier Thoroughbred industry in Pennsylvania.”

The addition of slots at Aqueduct in New York has grabbed the attention of horsemen, but the competition is seen as a positive in the Midlantic region.

“Those purses will only help Maryland and Pennsylvania,” Golden said. “The more money that is routed into any industry will always benefit others in that industry as well.

“New York will always be the standard for other states to follow. I believe that our owners and breeders in Maryland and Pennsylvania would be content with a consistently growing state program of their own and they would support that program. More state-bred and state-sired races like they have in New York would make owners, breeders, and trainers in Pennsylvania and Maryland very happy.”

Northview has a hammerlock on the Pennsylvania sire leaders list with their “big three” from Ghost Ridge leading the parade: Jump Start, E Dubai, and Smarty Jones.

Jump Start, bred and raced by the late William T. Young, began his stud career at Young’s Overbrook Farm in Kentucky in 2003 after a shortened, one-year racing season in which he won the Saratoga Special Stakes (gr. II). The son of A.P. Indy was moved to Pennsylvania and Ghost Ridge for the 2009 season. This year has been his best by far, as he ranks in the top 40 nationally and has six stakes winners in 2011 including a pair of top sophomores: three-time Derby winner Prayer for Relief (Ohio, Iowa, and Super) and Pants On Fire, winner of the Louisiana Derby (gr. II).

E Dubai, who began his career at Darley in 2003 and shuttled to Darley Australia for three seasons, was Pennsylvania's leading sire of 2010 with just under $4 million in progeny earnings. The son of Mr. Prospector has eight stakes winners so far this year.

Third on the 2011 list is the Keystone State's own Smarty Jones, the darling of the 2004 Triple Crown series where he came just shy of winning the Triple Crown with his heart-breaking loss to Birdstone in the Belmont Stakes (gr. I). Retired to stud to Kentucky's Three Chimneys Farm, he moved to Ghost Ridge for the 2011 season and has now settled in at Northview.

Perhaps unable to deliver up to the hype early on, Smarty Jones' stud career is quietly adding depth. He has three stakes winners on the year including Sunrise Smarty, winner of the Fall Highweight Handicap (gr. III) on Thanksgiving Day at Aqueduct.

"I think it's difficult to live up to your expectations when your expectations are so high," McEntee said of Smarty's first few crops of runners. "Now he is consistently throwing top-level allowance winners and some graded stakes winners."

The fee for Smarty Jones dips to $7,500 for 2012 from $10,000 last year.

"He's priced reasonably, and he'll give breeders in the Midlantic area a good opportunity to get to a very good horse," McEntee said.

Other stallions at Northview Pennsylvania are Fairbanks, a grade II-winning son of Giant's Causeway who was a Fasig-Tipton Saratoga yearling sale-topper at $1.85 million; Love of Money, a son of Not

With Pennsylvania going strong, the team at Northview hopes the market in Maryland is on the improve

For Love and winner of the Pennsylvania Derby (gr. II) who is the third-leading second-crop sire in the state this year; Medallist, a multiple graded stakes-winning son of Touch Gold and a top-10 sire in the state; and Silver Train, winner of the 2005 TVG Breeders' Cup Sprint (gr. I) and the 2006 Metropolitan Handicap (gr. I). Silver Train, who began his stud career at Vinery in Kentucky, is the runaway leading second-crop sire by progeny earnings and by winners—his 74 winners so far this year is nearly double that of the second-place sire.

Free State of Mind

Northview's Maryland roster is the strongest in the state, and Golden and company have made a big commitment in shaky times.

"Asking me if Greece will go bankrupt might be easier to answer," was Golden's response to the future of the breeding industry in Maryland.

He noted the future of the Thoroughbred industry in the state is based on its purses and bonuses and in those departments Maryland has trailed its competition. Despite slots now coming on board, there are no projections of the potential purse structure as there have been in other states.

"How can owners of stallions consider retiring or moving stallions to Maryland under those circumstances?" he asked.

"Maryland still has no idea how many days of racing they are going to have for the next two years and beyond or how much money they are going to have to pay the Maryland Jockey Club for the privilege to stay open," Golden said. "What if Maryland racing has to pay out most of its slot income just to keep racing going? That would destroy the future of the Maryland Thoroughbred industry.

"If the Maryland purse/bonus structure does not rise considerably in the next few years, then the slots legislation that was passed in Maryland will have accomplished nothing but enriching the Maryland Jockey Club. Personally, I don't believe Maryland needs more than 80-100 days of racing."

The cornerstone stallion of Maryland for the last decade has been Not For Love. The state's leading sire and perhaps the top stallion in the United States not standing in Kentucky, he is the sire of more than 70 stakes winners. By Mr. Prospector, Not For Love was bred by the Phipps family out of grade I winner Dance Number and is a full brother to 1989 champion 2-year-old male Rhythm and to Get Lucky, the granddam of 2010 Kentucky Derby Presented by Yum! Brands (gr. I) winner Super Saver.

Not For Love will stand for $15,000 in 2012, down from last year's $20,000.

The most commercial stallion in the region ruled the roost at this year's Maryland Million, siring four winners on the Oct. 1 card at Laurel, and sons of Not For Love—Eighttofasttocatch, Cactus Charlie, and Not Abroad—ran one, two, three in the Maryland Million Classic.

"He's a consistent stallion that produces stakes horses," McEntee said. "When people breed to him, they know they can get a sales horse and a good, consistent racehorse that has longevity. They can race as 3-, 4-, and 5-year-olds."

Another of the Maryland division's top stallions is also a Phipps-bred: Lion Hearted. By Storm Cat out of grade I winner Cadillacing, Lion Hearted will stand for $3,000. The sire of 18 stakes winners from eight crops of racing age, Lion Hearted is "priced where people can make a profit," according to McEntee. "He bred more than 70 mares last year and is a horse that consistently throws runners. In a region that mainly breeds to race, that's a comforting thing."

Deputy Storm was Maryland's leading first-crop sire last year while Northview's Dance With Ravens was the leading second-crop sire of 2010 with more than $1.5 million in progeny earnings.

Deputy Storm, a son of Forestry out of Canadian champion 2- and 3-year-old filly Deputy Jane West, will stand for $3,500.

Dance With Ravens is currently the third-leading sire in Maryland behind Not For Love and Lion Hearted. Out of Canadian Horse of the Year Dance Smartly, Dance With Ravens is by sire of sires A.P. Indy. His fee will be $2,500.

Great Notion, a son of Elusive Quality with four crops on the track, is the sire of Havelock, winner of the Play the King Stakes (Can-IIT) at Woodbine and the Woodford Stakes (gr. IIIT) at Keeneland. Havelock made his way to the Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint (gr. IIT) but finished unplaced.

Great Notion's 2-year-old colt Glib won the Maryland Million Nursery Stakes and ran third in Aqueduct's Lord Henribee Stakes Nov. 6 and second in the Dave's Friend Stakes at Laurel Nov. 26.

"This horse, if you look at his numbers, is really improving his mares," McEntee said. "And if you look at his stud fee, he's a real attractive horse."

The grade I-placed Great Notion will stand for $2,500.

Bullsbay and Street Magician will be standing their second year at stud at the Maryland facility in 2012.

Bullsbay (Tiznow—The Hess Express, by Lord Carson) won the Whitney Handicap (gr. I) and Alysheba Stakes (gr. III) at 5. His fee will be $5,000.

"I know he won the Whitney, but he had speed early on and ran some great figures in his early races," McEntee said. "People are noticing him now, especially in a day and age where it's getting to the point where people can actually make money racing horses."

Street Magician, by Street Cry out of the Meadowlake mare Magical Meadow, won the six-furlong Hirsch Jacobs Stakes (gr. III) at 3.

"He's just an attractive horse," McEntee said. "Fifty percent or more of the races up here are at six furlongs or less, so with a horse with that much speed in his pedigree, he's going to be attractive."

What's most attractive for the majority of breeders in the Midlantic region is a farm offering a deep bench of stallions for multiple state-bred programs. Northview resoundingly fits the bill.
