Musician Susan Hunter hits the high notes with Thoroughbreds

BY RON MITCHELL

Susan Hunter at her Hunter Creek Farms near Roswell, N.M.

SUSAN HUNTER CONSIDERS herself lucky that she's made a successful living off what is decidedly the most near and dear to her—music and horses. After 22 years as a professional musician with the contemporary country group Limited Edition, Hunter is now in the middle of her second act as the owner of Hunter Creek Farms near Roswell, N.M.

Hunter Creek began 16 years ago with the focus only on foaling mares during the breeding season. Over time, the 72-acre farm has evolved into a full-service operation with a training track and standing stallions Silver Wagon and Finale.

Born and raised in Big Spring, Texas, Hunter grew up competing in rodeos as a barrel racer.

“Limited Edition was my band. It was a country band. (continued on page 54)

Special Note For Sire Lists:

For stallions that stand, will stand, or stood (deceased) in the states featured in this section (stallions that are dead or exported prior to 2012 are excluded), and have runners in North America. Listed below are all available statistics for the Northern Hemisphere through March 13, 2016. As supplied to Blood-Horse by The Jockey Club Information Systems Inc., include adjusted money from Japan, Hong Kong, and Singapore. Adjusted earnings are put on par with average North American earnings from the previous year. For example, the average North American purse in 2015 is $21,782 or 50% of the 2015 average purse in Japan. To put earnings on par, all Japanese progeny earnings are multiplied by 50% before being credited to a sire's progeny earnings. Hong Kong earnings are adjusted by 17%; Singapore by 57%. Current year stakes winners include all N.H.-black-type stakes results from all available countries. *Foal counts include Southern Hemisphere. Cumulative stakes winners includes all countries. (A ♯ indicates a sire represented by his first crop to race).

*AVERAGE-EARNINGS INDEX and COMPARABLE INDEX: Lifetime AVERAGE-EARNINGS INDEX indicates how much purse money the progeny of one sire has earned in relation to the average earnings of all runners in the same years; average earnings of all runners in any year is represented by an index of 1.00; COMPARABLE INDEX indicates the average earnings of progeny produced from mares bred to one sire, when these same mares were bred to other sires. Only 32% of all sires have a lifetime AVERAGE-EARNINGS INDEX higher than their mares' COMPARABLE INDEX.

the band. Limited Edition began traveling all over the U.S. opening for a lot of big bands. She said the band had an extraordinarily successful run for 10 years.

"We all sang. It was an excellent way to make a living but I must say I like this better," Hunter said about transitioning to the farm. "I have really been fortunate to do the two things that are the driving forces in my life—horses and music—for a living."

One of her first moves after getting into the horse business but before establishing Hunter Creek was to contact Dr. Leonard Blach, who operates a successful veterinary practice in New Mexico and who, with Mark Allen, posted one of the largest upsets in Kentucky Derby Presented by Yum! Brands (gr. I) history with Mine That Bird in 2009.

"Leonard Blach is my coach and my mentor, my everything who got me started in this business," said Hunter, noting that a horseman who handled her horses at auction had recommended the vet to her. "He brought me 40 mares from his place to show me how to manage broodmares. And he still is my adviser. Any question I have—business or otherwise—he is the one I call. There is no one better or more knowledgeable on equine reproduction than Dr. Blach."

"She was a client who had some Paint horses, and I knew she was a real horsewoman," Blach said. "There were only a few breeding farms, but we needed someone to foal the mares. I just thought she had the talent and love for horses where I could get her started and guide her. We've foaled our own mares for years, but we thought it would be good to have a farm dedicated to doing that. It worked out pretty well. She specialized in foaling out mares, and when the breeding season was over, she became involved in sales prep and working with yearlings. I'm there almost daily, I make a morning stop there. She depends on me a lot."

Although New Mexico has a vibrant Quarter Horse breeding and racing industry and Hunter's background had been primarily with that breed, she almost entirely devotes her farm to Thoroughbreds.

"All my life we had Quarter Horses, but on my current farm I have 90% Thoroughbreds," she said. "I love them both. Most of the mares I have here are Thoroughbreds, and all my stallions are Thoroughbreds."

With a horse population of 127—eight of her own—Hunter has expanded well beyond her foaling program.

"Before, all I did was keep year-round mares who are eligible for the New Mexico program and foal babies for other people. I deliver up to 275 foals a year. The foaling operation was the main focus until we got the stallions."

The farm consists of 10 large paddocks with underground drip irrigation and giant Bermuda grass pastures. Each of the stalls in the 16-stall foaling barn are 16x16 feet and the training barn has 14 stalls. The mare motel for mares and foals consist of 10 pens and half-covered runs that are 20x40 feet each.

Hunter takes as much pride in the accomplishments of her clients' horses as she does her own and provides special flourishes when they run or are offered at auction.

"When I go to the racetrack, I don't see this big majestic animal; I still see that newborn. I'll take the newborn pictures—sometimes with the foal still attached to the mare—to the saddling paddock," she said of the Hunter Creek graduates. "At the

One of the first big horses to come off Hunter Creek was Etoile de Dome, bred in New Mexico by J.D. Osgood, Sherri Osgood, and S & L Associates. Racing for M

Bar O, the daughter of Dome won or placed in 13 of 22 starts and earned $329,352. As a juvenile, Etoile de Dome won the New Mexico Cup Classic Juvenile Fillies Stakes at Zia Park and was honored as New Mexico-bred champion 2-year-old filly. She went on to win the New Mexico Cup Filly Stakes and Chief Narbona Stakes and to place in four other stakes.

"I delivered her and did all of her lay-ups when she came off the track," Hunter said of the half sister to stakes winner Dayjurette and Knight's Last Star and to the durable campaigner Leroidessieux, a son of Leroidesanimaux who won or placed in 30 of 48 starts.

Hunter also is proud of the accomplishments of the foals produced from Miss Einstein, a Kentucky-bred daughter of Beau Genius. Campaigning by Roger K. Beasley and William F. Leach, Miss Einstein compiled a 5-2-5 record from 18 starts and won the Kachina Stakes at Ruidoso Downs and the Anchor Gaming Allowance Stakes at Sunland Park.

"I delivered almost all of her babies," Hunter said. "Her offspring won over $1 million and one year she was responsible for all five year-end state award winners and made the stallion Premeditation the stallion of the year."

Miss Einstein's second foal by Premeditation was multiple stakes winner Double Smart. Other stakes winners from the Premeditation—Miss Einstein breeding include multiple stakes winner Beau Wizer, who won or placed in 30 of 49 starts and earned $411,752; Mr. Wizard, who earned $577,032 and won four stakes and was honored as 2013 champion older horse in New Mexico; and stakes-placed Uncle Fudge.

Expanding into the stallion business is new territory for Hunter, and one of her primary clients, Gaylen Rust, has supported the effort by sending her Finale, a son of Scat Daddy trained by Todd Pletcher for the Coolmore Stud connections of Michael Tabor, Susan Magnier, and Derrick Smith to win two stakes, including the Summer Stakes Presented by TVG (Can-III) at Woodbine.

Rust, who has some 40 horses entrusted to Hunter, obtained Finale after inquiring about possible stallion prospects during a visit to Ashford Stud, Coolmore's U.S. division. Finale stands for a $2,500 fee.

Like Blach, Rust is a fan of Hunter and said that over his decades in the horse business he has never seen anyone as devoted to their vocation.

"In my 30 years of being in the horse business, 20 of it in Thoroughbreds, I have never met a woman so dedicated to taking care of mares and babies as Susan," Rust said. "I call her a mother hen. She is just a very, very special lady.

"I have met every one of her clients, and they feel the same way. Her horses are like her children. It is not just the work ethic. It's more a devotion. And she truly is a friend to every one of her clients. The kind of relationship we have I call her 'sis.' And that is very rare in the horse business."

Also standing for $2,500 at Hunter Creek is Silver Wagon, a son of Wagon

Limit whose stakes victories include the grade I Hopeful Stakes as a 2-year-old for Buckram Oak Farm. Silver Wagon, the sire of one stakes winner and 24 winners from 36 starters with progeny earnings in excess of $2 million, relocated to Hunter's farm for the 2016 breeding season.

Hunter said the enhancements available within the New Mexico breeding program have helped farms such as hers attract new clients, many of whom are from out of state and want to take advantage of the supplements.

"We're registering fewer foals than before, like everyone else," Hunter said of the New Mexico breeding industry. "But we are still very much holding our own and gave away $11 million in breeders' awards last year. It's an amazing amount of added money. That's why I exist—all these out-of-state people want to get in on that money."

Hunter said one reason her mare and foal operation is successful is because of a unique aspect of the New Mexico incentive program: for a foal to be eligible, the dam must have remained within the state during pregnancy and foaling unless prior written approval is obtained from the board of trustees.

Despite all the hats she's wearing, Hunter said she still gets the greatest satisfaction from delivering foals and working with broodmares.

"When you are delivering a baby and they take their first breath, there is absolutely nothing like that," Hunter said. "The rest of it is fun, and I am so proud when one of our horses is going around the track. Going to the sales is also fun. But there is nothing like that first little breath.

"You are sitting there and holding this little baby and getting them started...the whole time you're wondering 'who is this going to be?'" BH
